DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Regarding claim 1, applicant argues the references of Horimai et al, Rijnsburger and Kajiyama combined as a whole fails to teach the limitation of a step of alternately placing one of the pits with a first predetermined length and one of the lands with a second predetermined length adjacent to a position of one of the bit cell signal transitions. The examiner disagrees. Horimai et al. and Rijnsburger teach all the limitations of claim 1 except the pits with a first predetermined length and the lands with a second predetermined length and the specific location of these pits and lands. Kajiyama introduces the method of a sequence of pits and lands which have a predetermined length size which are positioned in a specific order to form a copy protecting signal for the benefit of preventing illegal copying of the disc (Col 3 Line 64 – Col 5 Line 10). One of ordinary skill in the art would have recognized the method for storing data as taught by Horimai et al. and Rijnsburger with the teaching of including predetermined lengths to the pits and lands in a specific pattern as taught by Kajiyama combined as a whole would have combined the teachings of all three references to anticipate the limitations of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1-13 and 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horimai et al. 5,513,161 and further in view of Rijnsburger 4,907,216 and Kajiyama et al. 6,108,296.

Regarding claims 1-13 and 18-23, the rejection of claims 1-13 and 18-23 discussed in the previous Office action mailed 12/4/2009 is herein repeated (see Response to Arguments).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
